CANDLEMAKERS SINCE 1862, BARCELONA

Candlemakers since 1862

The story of Cerabella began in the late nineteenth century when Francesca Abella, a woman ahead of her time, opened a small candle factory in Barcelona.

More than 160 years later, Cerabella, which continues to be run by the same family and is based in Barcelona and Miami, has reinvented the profession by transforming its expertise into inimitable value.

160 years of passion and research have turned candlemaking into a work that challenges the urgences of times.

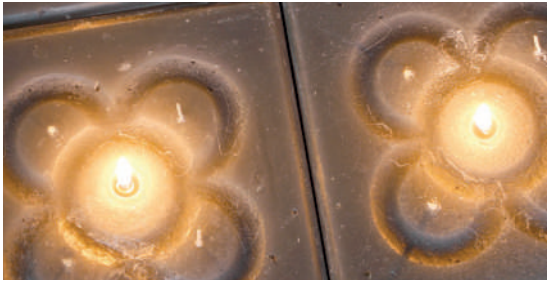
Handmade in Barcelona

Every candle tells the story of the hands that made it. These unique works of art are made with the creative, open and Mediterranean nature of the city where they were born.

Every candle is the result of the dedication of a master craftsman who, with passion and care, makes this unique profession a reality. Like the flame of a candle, this artisanal and traditional craft withstands the whirlwind of time.

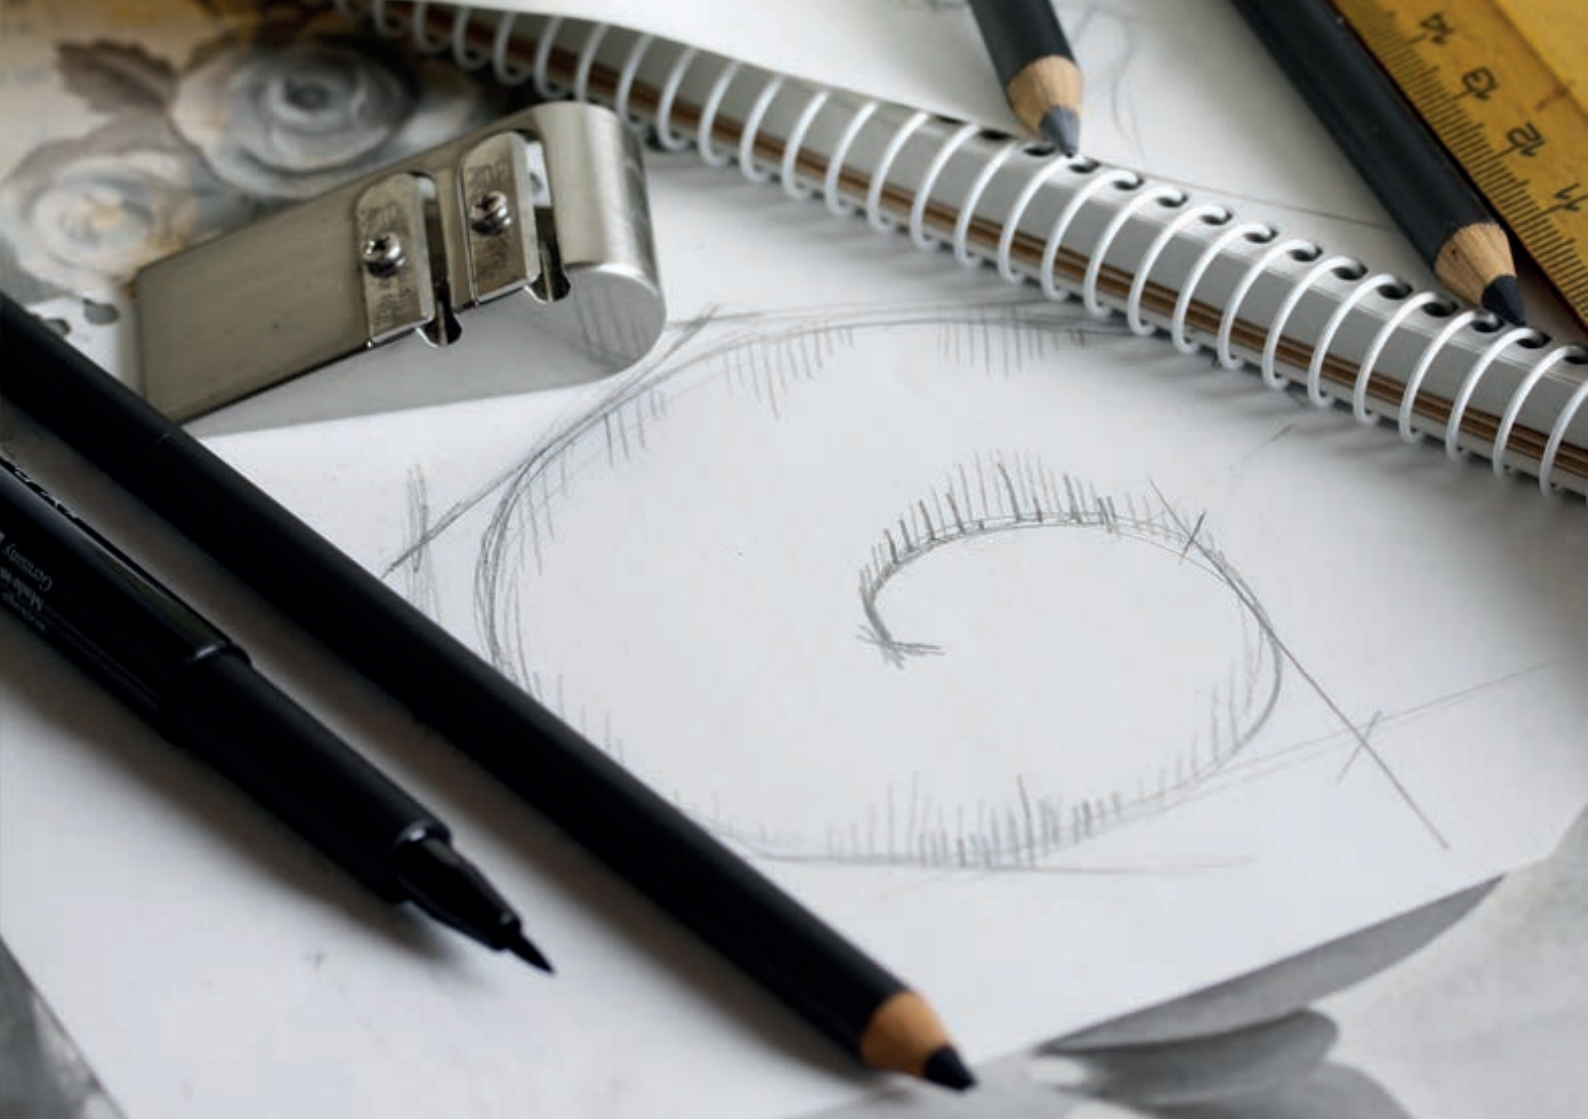


Design

Cerabella's candle designs are the result of hand-drawn inspiration from beginning to end, featuring natural materials adorned with scents that have been carefully selected by master perfumers.

Every piece reflects the personality of Cerabella and its unique character that sets trends and standards for decorative candles.

Jordi Labanda, Sybilla, Michelle Oka Doner, Miró and Muma Soler are some of the artists who have teamed up with Cerabella to create candles that are now part of the collection.



Personalization

Thanks to its production facility and in-depth knowledge of candle making, Cerabella is able to offer personalised candles that range from large quantities to unique wax sculptures.

The wide range of services make it possible to carry out all types of wax projects at the highest level.

Every candle tells the story of the hands that made it.

Together we take care of the planet

From Cerabella we work on a set of concrete actions and measures respectful with our environment, making our products and / or production processes more sustainable so that our activity and our candles generate the least possible environmental impact. With this objective, we identify products and actions with symbols that identify our ecological commitment.
